THINK BIGG

Grades K - 6

Think Bigg is an exciting blend of education and entertainment that encourages children to become aware of their bodies and their imaginations as powerful tools of self-expression and communication. Students first learn about the various components of non-verbal communication, and later become involved right in their seats exploring classic mime techniques. In sketches like the Scuba Dude, Roboman and Mr. Bigg, Arterberry creates characters and their environments using storytelling, mime, music and puppetry. Teacher evaluations indicate that students continue to explore mime and gesture long after the show, and many use the included study-guide to extend the lessons.

"David was really the most lonely, disturbed child in the fifth grade. He has gotten referrals for awful behavior in the cafeteria, on the bus, and of course in my classroom. You chose him out of the crowd and painted his face. Because of the attention you gave him, he is like a new person. Thank you for the difference you made in David's life!"

ACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER

Grades 6 - 12

Alternately hilarious and poignant, Actions Speak Louder uses modern scenarios to examine how our own inner resources can help us to make the right choices when confronting challenges like peer pressure, moral confusion, dangerous drugs and coercive advertising. In the end, we discover time and again how our own powers of mind and body—balance, self-awareness, imagination and perseverance—can guide us through life's most difficult challenges and enable us to realize our dreams.

"I did not know how 1000 students would react to a mime performance by a single individual... Trent did a fabulous job. The assembly was a great success and he captured the attention of all our students and staff. Many of our English teachers used Trent's study-guide in their classrooms to allow them to try mime themselves."
